BANDITS ROB MANCERONA BANK

SECURE $3,000. 3 CAPTURED. PURSUERS AND BANDITS SHOT

The whole north country was startled Monday afternoon when the news was spread that bandits had entered and robbed a bank at Mancelona.

Officers in all the northern Michigan counties were promptly notified and all were on the lookout for any suspicious characters. Sheriff Bohannon of Grayling promptly organized his forces and started out to guard all highways and possible avenues of escape that might be used by the bandits.

The Petoskey Evening News in their edition of Tuesday evening gave out the following story relative to the affair.

Mancelona, June 3.—(UP)—Two bandits who robbed the Mancelona State Bank yesterday and one vigilante were shot in a wooded section about five and one-half miles northwest of here this afternoon. One of the bandits is in a local hospital in a serious condition, while the other and the posseman have not been brought in.

Mancelona, June 3.—(UP)—Capture of four bandits who yesterday morning held up and robbed the Mancelona State Bank was expected momentarily today as a posse composed of state police, vigilantes and citizens guarded a swamp tract six miles north of here where the robbers yesterday afternoon abandoned their auto.

One of the quartet has been captured. He was taken last night by state police as he emerged from his hiding place at the side of a highway and attempted to make his escape. After a seven hour grilling he is said to have confessed to Capt. L. A. Lyons of the state police that he was a member of the gang. He gave his name as Sylvester Elliott, of Kalamazoo, age 22.

Elliott also revealed that the plans of himself and his companions went wrong after they abandoned their machine yesterday afternoon. He stated that they were supposed to have been met at the spot they deserted their car by another machine in which they were to have made good their escape. Elliott formerly lived in Northern Michigan.

They entered the bank and at the point of pistols and sawed-off shotguns ordered those inside to lie on the floor. Instead of obeying, one of the bank officials ran into the board of directors' rooms and sounded an alarm for the local vigilantes. Alarmed, the bandits fled, taking only loose cash lying on counters, the amount of which has not been determined but which is known to total less than $3,000.

Pursued to the point where they abandoned their car, the quartet opened fire on a lone car which had been following them, wounding Herbert Sullivan, a member of the Mancelona vigilantes in the arm with a charge of shot.

Later in the day two parties of the posse of hundreds of men which armed the country-side engaged in a battle between themselves in which Dr. J. R. Gerver, of Bellaire, was wounded in the shoulder. Gerver was shot after he had opened fire on another posse party. His son who was with him fled into a farm house and with two other inmates, a farmer and his hired hand, were besieged for two hours by a posse which at one time numbered more than a thousand men.

The error was discovered when William Kettle, former sheriff of Antrim county, crawled to the farm house to attempt to signal to Dr. Gerver's son who was believed to have been held as a hostage. Although state police stated today that they have secured the names of the other members of the gang, they refused to reveal them.

Elliott, it was stated, surrendered without a fight as three state troopers approached him.

The Mancelona bank which was the victim of yesterday's robbery is incorporated as the Antrim County State Savings Bank, but is known throughout the district as the Mancelona State Bank. It is the only bank here.

The fourth and last of the bank robbery gang was captured in Cadillac yesterday afternoon.

Theodore Nelson, a brother of Tracy Nelson of this city and bookkeeper of the Mancelona State Bank, was present when the robbery took place.

TRIM WEST BRANCH LOSE TO LAKE CITY

Grayling took West Branch for a whole series of assorted loops Monday afternoon when the Northern Lights blighted the West Branch aspirations by handing them the score of a 5-2 count. The local aggregation turned in a nice demonstration of the ball tossing art and thoroughly deserved to win. Eight solid hits accounted for the five runs, while seven opposing bingles brought in only two men across the rubber. Grayling pulled out of some mean holes, but the southpaw pitching of Sheehy was very effective clear through, fanning fourteen.

The game was tight for the most part. Grayling scored a run in the second on Sheehy's single, Schmidt's one baser and a passed ball. West Branch retaliated with one in the fourth. Schick swung at a third strike and the ball, hitting the plate as it broke, bounced over Losko's head. He stole on the paths and finally charged in home on a passed ball. The score stayed at one all till the sixth when Grayling counted twice. Pond tripped in murderous fashion and Sheehy walked. They came home when Schmidt's long drive to center was muffled in beautiful style. The opposition got a run in the seventh when the inning started with a walk followed by two hits. That ended their scoring though they threatened seriously in both the eighth and the ninth and Grayling had to present an alert defense to stop them. The Lights grabbed off a pair of runs in the eighth when three hits ferried two men home.

This game ended the athletic competition of some of Grayling's most reliable athletes. May, Post, Pond, Schmidt and Curnalia took their last bats and their absence will be keenly felt. They finished their participation in good form.

Grayling dropped its Decoration Day engagement to Lake City by a count of 8-5. The Northern Lights have broken even with every team met so far with the exception of Oscoda, and the second game was rained out. Running true to its custom Grayling was due to drop this game and so came through as the dope indicated. The baseball season for this year is officially closed.

CLASS OF 1930 TO ORGANIZE ALUMNI SOCIETY

Plans are under way for the organization of an Alumni association, by the class of 1930. Grayling has never yet had an Alumni Association, so this will be quite an undertaking. If plans go as scheduled the class will deserve no little honor for starting the organization.

As the first step in organizing the association, a banquet has been arranged to be held the evening of June twelfth. More than two hundred invitations have been sent out to former graduates and teachers of Grayling High School. After the banquet a short business meeting will be held to elect officers and make the organization a permanent one.

As a class we hope that former graduates will cooperate with us in making this organization of an Alumni Association a success. Please come.

BETTER PROTECTION FOR HARTWICK PINES

Additional fire protection will be given two of the state's best known wild life sanctuaries through a decision of the Forest-Wild Division of the Department of Conservation to build more fire lines in Hartwick Pines and the Wilderness State Park. These two sanctuaries contain some of the finest cover and most valuable virgin hardwood forests in the lower peninsula of Michigan. A forest fire recently ran dangerously near the Hartwick Pines before it could be halted.

SCHOOL ALUMNI TO HOLD BANQUET

OLD GRADS INVITED. SPONSORED BY CLASS 1930

The graduating class of 1930 are extending invitations to all graduates of Grayling high school to attend the first annual alumni banquet, to be held Thursday evening, June 12th at 6:00 o'clock, at Michelson Memorial church.

All those in town, it is understood, are expected to be present. Those out of town have been sent special invitations. There will be a charge of $1.00 a plate for the banquet. The banquet will be followed by a program of entertainment. It is expected that a permanent organization of the alumni will be formed at this event.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION HELD JUNE MEETING HERE

The members of the State Conservation commission held their June meeting here last night at the Officers club at the Military reservation, where they remained for the night.

The party consisted of Director Geo. Hogarth; Chairman Wm. H. Loutitt; Harold Titus, Philip Schumaker, Ed. Vogt, Wm. Newitt; Secretary Ray Cotton of the commission, and Albert Stowell of the Detroit News, and Ben East of Grand Rapids, outdoor writer for the Booth newspapers.

The men left Lansing Wednesday morning and on the way up visited the oil fields at Midland. They had dinner at Shoppenagons Inn that evening and went from there to the Clubhouse for their meeting. In the afternoon they inspected Grayling trout hatchery and the Hartwick Pines park.

The party left this morning for St. Helen to inspect the Ogema game refuge. They also will visit Turtle Lake deer yards in that district.

Tonight they will hold a public meeting at Alpena to discuss some of the problems of feeding deer.

SCHOOL OPERETTA WAS BIG SUCCESS

"Betty Lou" and company entertained Grayling last week Wednesday night at the High School, and everyone present yielded to the charm of the production. High school operettas demand much drill and long hard work on the part of management and cast to come to successful presentation, and Betty Lou was nothing if not a success.

The story, carried in catchy songs and clever dialogue, revolved around Betty Lou, the fading family fortunes, an imposter with a fierce black moustache who turned out to be a first rate villain on the way to reform, an impersonation on the part of the inimitable Betty who decided not to grow up and then wished she could, and a cabinet with a secret compartment that was suspected of containing everything from old paper to long lost deeds and missing jewels. The girls carried the masculine roles in quite convincing style and the whole thing moved prettily and smoothly through three entertaining acts. When the last curtain came it brought a sincere regret to the audience.

The operetta contained many pleasing scenes and intriguing songs, giving various members of the cast chances to do feature work. The chorus was substantial support. Dorothy Roberts proved to be a most acceptable Betty Lou and carried a hard part nicely. Margaret Warren finally induced her to grow up and her solo work was outstanding. Tressa Vallad made a convincing villain and Grace Parker was twice saved by heroic work with the smelling salts in the role of the maternal ancestor of the amazing Betty Lou. Mary Schumann, Elizabeth Matson, Alyce Mahneke, Elsie Johnson, Loretta Sorenson, Betty Welsh, and Noreen LaBarge all had solo parts of varying length and contributed to the general success of the operetta. They were assisted by the constant chorus most capably.

Credit for the operetta, as in all such productions, goes to the management for long drill and direction. Miss McAllister assumed the bulk of the drill, assisted most capably by Mr. Hill and Miss Lindstrom. To them the credit is due, as well as the actual participants, and in greater degree. The operetta was a success—that's what counts.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE CIRCUS AT PETOSKEY, JUNE 9TH

Sensations and thrills are packed into the 1930 performance of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, which will make its appearance in Petoskey on June 9. Great interest has been manifested in the coming of this high-class circus and hundreds of people from this community are going to attend the exhibitions.

Heading the list of dare-devils is "The Great Wilno" who is actually fired with violent velocity from the mouth of a monster cannon. Wilno's act is one of the sensations of the present day, as this human bullet shoots through space from the huge gun to a net many feet away. Wilno is an exclusive Hagenbeck-Wallace feature.

Clyde Beatty, the youthful sub-jugator, who is said to be the world's greatest animal trainer, will offer a display of over 30 ferocious Royal Bengal and Siberian tigers and African lions. This is the largest group ever presented under the tutelage of any American trainer. Aage Christensen, a noted European Trainer, will present a vicious and savage group of hyenas, leopards, pumas, bears and other animals.

Included among the arenic stars will be the Albert Hodgini Family of riders, the Flying Herberts, the Motomoto Troupe, the Montmartre Family of acrobats, the Jess Sisters, the Albertas, Hauser Trio, and the Nortons. Clown alley, as usual, will contain only the best of laugh-provokers.

"The Golden Orient", a beautiful story of old Japan, will provide the opening musical presentation.

Who's Who? And Why?

CRAWFORD CO. BOY ON WAY TO RUSSIA

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barber, Roscommon, brother of Mrs. Chas. Corwin and Mrs. Dan Babbitt, one of two men picked by a Russian commission that visited America recently, to come to Russia and assist in establishing a factory for the manufacture of tractors. Mr. Barber writes his mother under date of April 30th as follows:

On board S. S. "Majestic" April 30, 1930

Dear Mother and Dad:
Will talk to you a while tonight. We are 5 days out and sure having a good time, and better weather couldn't be wished for. Sure have had a fine trip so far. Seen, met, and passed a lot of ships all along. We will sight land at 6 o'clock in the morning. Will land at Sureburg, France, at 11:30 Saturday and cross the English Channel and land at Southampton at 5 o'clock.

I got a wireless from the Russian Representative in London at noon saying I can send 28 passengers on to Russia tomorrow night and the rest will have to wait in London until Saturday night. I had to wire him back the names of the ones we are going to send over. The boats are small and can't take the whole bunch at once so I see where I spend two days in London anyway. I'll let you know what I think of the "Bloody Bliters."

I have a touch of sore throat—a lot of people have it. Some of the women were sick—just bilious. I think because we haven't had any rough weather at all. We have already passed a few boats fishing about 30 miles back. Seems like we have been out 30 days and not quite 1/4 of the way yet. I imagine when we hit the North Sea we will hit some rough seas but I have the idea that anyone that can ride with "By" on that truck can stand most anything when it comes to roughing it.

We sure have a good bunch—84 in all. Some went broke the first night out. They sure gamble here, 24 hours a day. This is the largest boat on the water, weighs 56,552 tons, 952 feet long, 110 ft. wide, 115 ft. deep. It burns oil, has 48 boilers and burns 900 tons of fuel a day; carries a crew of 1000 and can accommodate 3,500 passengers. The Germans built it and the British took it away from them. Now Germany has two boats that run faster than this one. We have made 27 miles an hour since leaving New York. The Europa, a German liner that was launched this spring crossed the Atlantic in 4 days, 17 1/2 hours, passed us yesterday morning at 4:45. She left New York 7 hours later than we did. She makes about 32 to 34 miles an hour. She (Continued on last page)

WATER CARNIVAL GOING STRONG

84 TOWNS TO PARTICIPATE IN EVENT

The Eastern Michigan Water Carnival will in a few years be the greatest festival of the midwest, it was declared by officials last week when they announced that 84 towns are now enrolled as active participants in the Carnival.

From Pte. aux Barques to Lansing, from Mackinaw to Adrian, from Pontiac to Hillsdale, plans are going forward for the selection of girls to participate in the queen contest which will feature the first day of the Carnival.

And at Alpena and Tawas motor-boat races are tuning up their craft in preparation for the big regatta of the Carnival. Far north on Mullet and Burt Lakes, swimmers are beginning workouts to train them for the state open water swimming championships, to be held as a part of the festival.

In Detroit a Bay City Club, composed of former Bay Cityans has been organized, and in a body it will attend the Carnival, three or four thousand strong.

A Carnival at Alpena, another at Tawas, a Homecoming at West Branch and one at Gaylord, a festival day at Grayling—all these will take place as finales to the voting for queens in those districts. Already in West Branch district balloting has started and committees are working diligently on every phase of the joint Homecoming and Independence Day celebrations to take place there July 4th.

Such activities are typical of those which are going on all over eastern Michigan.

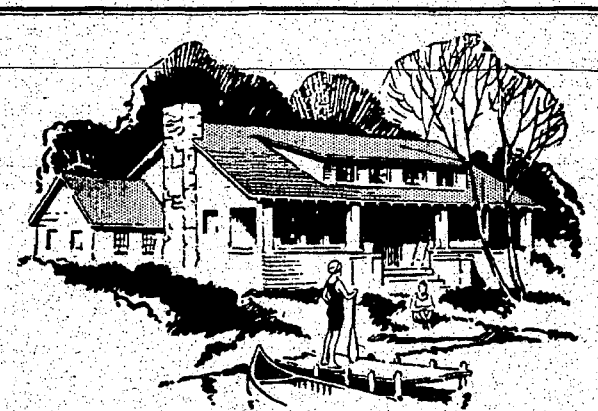

A group of new towns entered the Carnival within the past week. Besides assurances from Flint and Saginaw that they would participate, entries came from Owosso, Hillsdale, Adrian, Lansing and Pontiac.

Last year there were about 40 towns entered; this year there are 84. Next year the total will be in three figures, carnival officers believe.

THE HEAD REUNION

About thirty relatives gathered at the late Hubbard Head home east of Roscommon, on the county line, Monday, May 5th, to celebrate the 55th anniversary of the arrival of Urvilla and Hubbard Head to this county with their four children, Jay Miller, who died in August, 1928, Alta Head Fairbairn, who died January 1909, Phebe it and the British took it away from Head Williams; Roscommon and Elmer E. Head of Pontiac.

A pot luck dinner was served at noon after which a business meeting was held. Elmer Head was elected president to succeed Mrs. James Williams. Grace Miller Dusenbury was elected secretary and treasurer. Many things were talked over and planned for next year. The next meeting is to be held at the same place in July, 1931.—Roscommon Herald-News.

Summer Cottages

built this way are cool and comfortable

In no other way can so much comfort be built into a summer home for so little money as with Celotex Insulating Lumber.

This remarkable lumber, made from the long, tough fibres of cane, does what no ordinary building materials can do. It practically stops heat. It shuts out wind and moisture.

The comfortable coolness of a cottage built with Celotex is a delightful surprise. And if you want to use your cottage late in the season, Celotex will keep it snug and warm.

The cost of such a cottage is no more than the cost of one built with good lumber. Celotex is used for both exterior and interior finish. When painted, it will resist the weather quite as well as wood lumber. And it is much stronger in wall sections than wood. The broad, strong Celotex boards are easy to handle and apply. Sawed and nailed as wood lumber.

We sell and recommend Celotex. Ask us for sample and prices.

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1930

BANDITS OPERATING in Northern Michigan are taking a desperate chance for it has been clearly demonstrated in the case of the Manelona bank robbers this week that the reputation of the Northern people for shooting to kill has been well sustained.

There is no sentiment among confirmed bandits and neither is there any sentiment here in the north for that class of citizenry. Hardly had the robbers left the bank building before the chase was on and the pursuers made it hot for them almost every minute until the capture of the last one at Cadillac yesterday. Shots were fired from each side and there was every reason for any timid pursuers to jump the job, but they stuck right onto the job until the last man was taken.

The two Elliott brothers who were captured in the woods Tuesday were knocked down several times by gunshots and it is reported that hadn't the state police interfered the men would probably have been shot to death. It was gruelling punishment that these men received but a good sample of what may be expected by bandits operating in these parts. Men here know how to shoot, they know the country and have the endurance and courage to carry a fight to a finish.

Th pursuers of the bandits were so d---n angry that it is a great wonder that the victims were not completely riddled by bullets. And they would have deserved it too.

THORKILD BOESON PASSES SUDDENLY

Thorkild Boeson, one of Grayling's most estimable citizens and a resident of the community for a long number of years passed away suddenly at his home Wednesday morning.

Mr. Boeson seemed to be in the best of health and his death came as a severe shock to his family and large circle of friends. During Tuesday night he complained of a pain in his chest which seemed to leave him later in the night. However he awoke again about 5:00 o'clock and again complained of the pain and Mrs. Boeson suggested sending for a physician. Mr. Boeson consented and the latter went to the bathroom and while bathing his hands and face collapsed. The physician said death was due to heart trouble.

The funeral of Mr. Boeson will be held Saturday afternoon, with services at the home at 2:00 o'clock and at the Danish-Lutheran church at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dye have a lot of friends both here and in Roscommon who will be pleased to learn of their coming to Grayling.

The new log cabin summer home at Houghton Lake, which has been under construction by Best Bros. since last fall in Grand View Park for Mr. Dunlap of Detroit, was completely destroyed by fire early last Thursday morning. What caused the fire is somewhat of a mystery. The cabin, one of the finest on the lake, was nearing completion and the men at work had cleaned up all the shavings and rubbish in the rooms the day before preparatory to laying the hardwood floors and everything appeared all right in the evening. When the fire was discovered, flames were emitting from every part of the building. The loss was partly covered by insurance.—Roscommon Herald-News.

We are in receipt of a sixteen page booklet setting forth some things about Grayling that anyone who is interested in some plan to spend a delightful summer or winter outing will be interested in. The cover page of that booklet carries a picture of a grayling, a fish that once filled the waters of the streams about the town that was named after them. The inside of front and back covers have road maps pictured thereon leading to Grayling from everywhere and then there are pages full of descriptive matter and attractive pictures of scenes in and around Grayling. It is all very good and quite different.—Cheboygan Observer.

Mexican Poor Get Farms

Mexico City—Allotment of farms to Mexican peasants is provided in a decree signed by President Rubio Ortiz. None of the land so distributed has been expropriated from large land-holders due to evidence that large productive holdings were broken up in the past while millions of acres of good land lay idle.

It is the aim of the President to increase employment by colonizing idle lands and at the same time to improve the insufficient farm production of the country.

Protect Yourself

WHEN you buy paint, you should get protection. The amount of protection you get, of course, depends upon the quality of the paint you buy.

Because Valdura Asphalt Paint contains only the very highest grade materials—because the base is genuine 99.5% pure Gilsomite Asphalt (nature's own preservative)—and because of the extreme care taken in its manufacture, you get the utmost in paint when you buy Valdura—therefore, real protection!

BASS SEASON OPENS JUNE 25TH

With the trout season now well under way, Michigan's bass fishermen are preparing for the opening of the season on their favorite fish.

June 25th, when all inland lakes will be open to fishing, the season will open on all bass, bluegills, and sunfish. The size limit for black bass is not less than ten inches and for calico, rock, strawberry and white bass, not less than seven inches. The day's catch limit for black bass is five, and 25 in a day as an aggregate of all other kinds of bass, bluegills, sunfish and perch.

"The bass season is opening ten days later this year than in 1929," Fred A. Westerman, head of the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation said, "but we do not anticipate violations through ignorance of the new regulations. The later season will more nearly assure anglers that they are not catching bass during their spawning season. The ten days later season will undoubtedly mean an increase in the number of bass in our lakes because of the increased protection given spawning fish."

The tourney officially started last night and will continue until the winner is declared. The following racquet wielders have signified their intention of participating: Dowell, Summers, Holmes, Carlson, Devere Schmidt, B. Harrison, Harold Schmidt, Howard Schmidt, Warren, Hill, Larson, Poor and Cushman.

CARRIES 15 MEN UP 18 PER CENT GRADE IN HIGH GEAR CLIMB

Oakland Mounts Mile-Long Kettle Hill At Altosna With 2,456 Lbs. Of Passengers

Carrying fifteen men whose combined weight almost equalled that of the car itself, an Oakland Eight sedan recently made a remarkable "stunt" demonstration of high gear pulling power on the famous Kettle Hill at Altosna, Pa.

Crowded inside and perched outside on fenders, bumpers and running boards, the fifteen passengers represented a dead weight of 2,456 pounds which flattened down the springs until the rear fenders touched the tires every time the car encountered a road bump.

Kettle Hill, for many years a test grade where ambitious motorists try the capabilities of their cars, resembles a gigantic ramp rather than a road. For nearly a mile it climbs abruptly upward at an angle of 18.3 per cent. But despite the drag of one and one-quarter tons of passengers and the steepness of the ascent, the 85 horsepower Oakland made a standing start, climbed the hill in high gear and "went over the top" at a speed of 40 miles per hour. The Oakland was a strictly stock model.

Scouts of Troop No. 23, District Council, Boy Scouts, deposited a Memorial Day wreath and flag upon the grave of a Revolutionary Army officer which they themselves discovered and marked a year ago while hiking along the wooded banks of the Potomac near Washington. The boys were making their way along the trail and scanning their surroundings for something of interest when one of them noticed a slab of stone, most of which was hidden by undergrowth. After the dirt was removed the Scouts were able through a time-worn inscription to identify the grave of Col. John Addison, Commander of the lower battalion of Maryland troops. Shortly thereafter, the troop received a letter of thanks from the Maryland State Historical Society.

GALILEAN SERVICES OF WORSHIP HELD AT CONNINE'S GROVE

The Michelson Memorial M. E. church held their Epworth League service and evening church service at Connine's grove last Sunday evening at six-thirty. It was a warm evening and those who attended enjoyed the open air meetings. Many were seated in cars, while others were seated on the ground.

The Epworth League service was in charge of C. N. Hill who will be leaving Grayling soon for Detroit. Rev. Greenwood in behalf of the League presented Mr. Hill with a set of military brushes as a token of their appreciation for the many times he has assisted in the Epworth League. He was very active and was always cheerful and willing when asked to assist with the meetings. Mr. Hill chose for his topic "The Value of Friendships" which the group found very interesting. The League meeting closed with Mr. Hill leading the singing of the song "Taps."

Those remaining for the church service heard an inspiring message from Dr. D. H. Glass, District Superintendent. Mrs. Glass was also among those present.

Several Roscommon people motored to Grayling and in all about fifty attended the service.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

London Naval Treaty Will Be Dealt With by Senate in Special Session.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RATIFICATION or rejection of the London naval treaty will be accomplished by the senate in a special session, to be called by President Hoover immediately after the adjournment of congress about June 15. This was the plan decided upon by majority leaders of the senate and house with the approval of the President. It was considered best for congress to go ahead with the business before it, complete that and adjourn without taking up the treaty. The house leaders said they were ready to set a date for ending the session as soon as the senate was prepared for such a step.

Opposition to hasty action on the treaty, by opponents of the pact, and a desire on the part of members of the house to get through and go home were two of the major reasons for the decision reached. President Hoover's announcement that he intended to call a special session, if necessary, to insure early action on the treaty was a principal factor.

Senators Johnson of California and Hale of Maine, leaders of the opposition, were especially vehement in their objections to what they called an attempt to railroad the pact through the senate by administration senators. Under the program adopted, the tariff, rivers and harbors, omnibus and veterans bills will be acted on in the senate before congress adjourns.

More members of the navy general board and other high officers of the navy appeared before the senate committee on foreign relations and naval affairs to tell why they consider the London treaty dangerous for the United States. Much of their testimony was to the effect that it would make it impossible for the navy to protect this country's trade routes; there also was further criticism of the reduction in the number of large cruisers for America and of the increased ratio given Japan.

DEBATE on the conference report on the tariff bill was just getting under way in the senate when some one raised a point of order which was sustained by Vice President Curtis and under which the measure was sent back to conference. Consequently final action on the bill was delayed for at least one week.

The point of order related to a clause in the flexible provision permitting the tariff commission to make effective changes in duties if the President failed either to approve or disapprove a recommendation for an increase or decrease within 60 days. Republican leaders were concerned over the fact that several additional points of order may be made relating to rate items. If these are sustained further delays are in prospect.

FIGURES presented to the senate campaign expenditures committee revealed that Senator Grundy of Pennsylvania spent $291,000 out of his own pocket in his losing campaign for re-nomination and that the total cost of that campaign was $392,076. Secretary of Labor Davis, who defeated Grundy, told the committee that he expended and pledged out of his own funds $10,541.45. He said he also handled about $10,000 in contributions to his campaign which he turned over to his committee.

Francis H. Bohlen, who ran against Senator Grundy and Secretary Davis with the backing of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, testified that the total expended for the ticket which included himself and candidates for governor and lieutenant governor was a little more than $200,000. Of this amount $10,000 was contributed by the association.

SOME of the dry leaders in the senate were considerably more disturbed by the ruling of the Supreme court, that the ordinary purchaser of intoxicating liquor is not guilty of an offense, than was the prohibition enforcement bureau. Senator Sheppard of Texas, for instance, urged the early enactment of legislation to make the liquor buyer punishable under the dry laws. Sheppard was co-author of the Eighteenth amendment. Early in the present session he introduced a bill to make the seller and purchaser of illicit liquor equally liable to punishment. Senator Jones of Washington, author of the "five and ten law," and others opposed the views of Sheppard. The court, in an important test case brought by the government, held that congress "not only deliberately and designedly" exempted purchasers in the Volstead act, but for ten years "has significantly left the law in its original form."

Enforcement bureau officials pointed out that the decision was entirely in accord with the policy the bureau had followed.

THREE bills intended to improve prohibition enforcement, principally through the relief of congested federal court dockets, were given the approval of the house judiciary committee. One measure would authorize the summary prosecution of offenses, elsewhere defined as misdemeanors, before United States commissioners without a jury. Whatever the action of the commissioner, it must be confirmed or disapproved by a member of the federal bench.

Another would amend the United States code to define a misdemeanor as an offense calling for a maximum penalty of six months in jail, a fine of $500, or both, and a felony as an offense punishable by imprisonment for not less than one year.

The third measure would amend the Jones law to define a misdemeanor under the prohibition laws as an offense committed by one who is not a habitual violator of the dry statutes and a case involving not more than one gallon of liquor.

OUT in Seattle a federal grand jury returned indictments against Roy C. Lyle, prohibition administrator for Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska, and others on charges of corruption and bribery. Among the indicted are William M. Whitney, Mr. Lyle's assistant and legal advisor; Earl Corwin, a prohibition agent; M. L. Fryant, a deputy sheriff who won notoriety as a wire tapper in the famous Olmsted "whispering wires" case, and C. T. McKinney, a young lawyer from Kentucky who led the prosecution of the Olmsted liquor gang.

OFFICIALS of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals were asked to appear before the senate lobby committee to explain its alleged failure to report, in accordance with the federal corrupt practices act, its activities in the presidential campaign of 1928.

Deals Pickett, research secretary of the board, testifying in the absence of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, its general secretary, insisted that its activities in behalf of Hoover were "nonpolitical." He pointed out that the Department of Justice has declined to prosecute the board for noncompliance with the federal statute.

Pickett stated that hundreds of thousands of copies of the Voice and the Cliphedge, organs of the board, attacking Al Smith's prohibition record, were circulated during the 1928 campaign; that the religious issue received attention in the Voice, a fact he now deplored; and that as reported to the board by Doctor Wilson after the campaign, "we did use all the energy that we were capable of in bringing about the election of Herbert Hoover as President and Charles Curtis as Vice President."

"PASSIVE" no longer describes the assistance of the Indian natives to British rule. The rioting is increasing daily and has developed into bloody conflicts with the police and the troops. What is worse, in the eyes of the British, is the fact that the Moslems are joining their traditional enemies, the Hindus, in the campaign in some localities, though in other places there have been sanguinary fights between natives of the two religions.

Worst of all the rioting, but not directly connected with the Indian campaign, was that in Rangoon. In that capital city of Burma warfare broke out between different bands of coolies when laborers were imported to break a strike of dock workers, and the troops were forced to fire on the mob. Many were killed and the wounded numbered perhaps a thousand. Latest reports indicated that peace had not yet been restored there. Fifteen Indian coolie women were said to have been tortured and massacred by coolies. All the shops in the city were closed and the food situation was becoming desperate.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI recently delivered several addresses—so fiery and provocative concerning the necessity of having Italy prepared for war that the negotiations between that country and France for a naval limitation agreement were broken off, at least temporarily. Some of the French newspapers even hint at the possibility of war between France and Italy, though the conciliatory attitude of the French government is stressed.

On the other hand, Deputy Gray in a speech before the Italian chamber of deputies, appealed to France to make an accord with Italy so that Europe may present a united front against America in the future armed struggle which he is certain will come.

CHINESE Nationalist forces in Honan province are reported to have been severely defeated by the troops of the northern alliance commanded by Yen Hsi-shan and Feng Yu-shan and numbering about 200,000 men. The government troops were forced to dig in and suspend their advance on Chengchow, the rebel base, until reinforcements arrive. The two armies have been engaged in battle along the railway south of the Yellow river since May 8.

ORGANIZED labor won a big victory when the Supreme Court of the United States upheld an injunction restraining the Texas and New Orleans railroad, a Southern Pacific system subsidiary, from organizing a so-called "company union" or interfering with the activities of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks among its employees.

DETERMINED to hold down government expenditures for veterans' relief to reasonable figures, President Hoover vetoed a bill broadening the basis for pensions for Spanish war veterans which would have added from $11,000,000 to $12,000,000 to annual costs to the government.

"I am in favor of properly discharging the national obligation to those who served in war or became disabled and are in need," said the President in his veto message. "But certain principles are included in this legislation which are opposed to the interest both of war veterans and of the public."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

When the mosquitoes come around to torment us again, it may be well to have a copy of Farmers' Bulletin 1570-F, Mosquito Remedies and Preventives. This bulletin can be secured free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Last year, 1,876,000 persons moved from farms to cities, and 1,257,000 moved from cities to farms, a movement away from farms of 619,000, according to U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics figures. The farm population is now the smallest in 30 years.

Pick mushrooms when they are "buttons"—that is, before the membrane or veil extending from the margin of the cap to the stem has broken. At this stage they command a better price than when larger. Mushrooms may be picked by twisting the base of the stem. Take care to press the soil over any holes made in picking.

Many dairymen believe that cows should always be milked regularly, but tests at the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry Experiment Farm at Beltsville, Md., show that average to good cows can be milked at irregular hours without any material effect on milk production. Apparently cows are more sensitive to changes in feeding routine than to variation in the hours of milking.

Although some "broilers" may be fat enough to market direct from the range, it is often profitable to fatten chickens for a week or two before marketing. Be careful not to overfeed the broilers when they are first put on the fattening ration. Gradually increase the quantity at each feeding until toward the latter part of the fattening period the birds are getting all they will eat. The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends the following fattening rations: 6 parts corn meal, 3 parts rolled oats, and 1 part middlings; or 6 parts corn meal, 2 parts ground oats without hulls, and 2 parts middlings. Feed these rations with milk, using 2 pounds of milk to 1 pound of mash.

Farm timber cut in late spring and summer should be handled with particular care, as at these seasons insects and fungi are more likely to attack freshly cut wood. Wood also seasons more rapidly in warm weather and may check excessively. Never let the wood lie in direct contact with the ground, says the U. S. Forest Service. Insect attack and decay are less likely if the timber is beveled and "open piled" off the ground in a shady, dry place. Painting the ends of logs with yellow ochre or burn paint retards injury from end checking. Treating peeled timber with creosote prevents sap stain and decay.

The severity of cutting, or length of the cutting season and the treatment of asparagus after the cutting season determine to a great extent the quality and quantity of the next year's crop. Cutting too late exhausts the plants. After the ridges have been leveled and the beds have been cultivated thoroughly, broadcast and work in a good high-grade complete fertilizer at the rate of 1,000 to 1,500 pounds per acre. Give the bed flat culture for the remainder of the growing season.

Practically all farm animals show a preference for alfalfa hay cut in the early stages of growth, but this does not mean that such hay is always the best for feeding. Some animals, especially horses and mules, do much better on hay cut when the alfalfa is in full bloom, as hay cut in the early stages is somewhat too laxative. Hogs and poultry, however, can not handle such coarse material, and unless the alfalfa is cut while still young there is considerable wastage in feeding. It should also be borne in mind that cutting alfalfa while the plants are young reduces both the yield and the length of life of the stand, and the grower must take this into consideration in comparing the money value of hay cut young and at a more mature stage of growth.

To protect potatoes in the home garden from early blight, late blight, and hopperburn, the foliage should be dusted with a copper lime dust or sprayed with Bordeaux mixture. The ingredients for Bordeaux mixture can be secured in prepared form in the proportions for home mixing, or proprietary Bordeaux mixtures may be obtained from seedsmen. The application of liquid should be made with a sprayer, preferably the knapsack or pressure type, which is capable of thoroughly atomizing the spray. It is essential to coat both sides of the leaves with a fine mist.

For protection from insects, a mixture of dehydrated lime and Paris green at the rate of 1 pound of poison to 20 pounds of lime may be dusted over the plants. If used in liquid form, milk of lime should be added to the mixture to prevent injury to the plants. Dry materials may be applied with a dust-distributing can, or even by putting the dust in a cheesecloth bag and shaking it over the plants. Liquid insecticide applications on a small plot may be made with a watering can or garden atomizer.

KNIFE KEEPS SPIREA BEAUTIFUL ALL YEAR

Shrub Should Be Pruned Following the Blossoming Season

Spiraea, of the Bridal Wreath type, should be pruned during the summer to increase its attractiveness after the flowering season is over, according to the horticultural department at Michigan State College.

The summer pruning should remove the smaller branches which have borne flowers and which have few leaves upon them. It will sometimes be necessary to remove a whole cane from the shrub, but usually, only the ends of the branches need to be cut back to a point where there are vigorous, leafy side shoots.

Many of these flowering branches will have dead tips and their removal improves the appearance of the plant. The pruning permits the younger wood to have a better chance to grow, and the bush will produce more flowers the year after pruning.

No pruning of the plant during the winter or early spring will be required if the summer pruning of the flowering branches is practiced.

Supper in the Woods

NOW that the weather is warm and balmy, isn't it fun to slip some food into appropriate containers and drive out to the woods for your supper? Such a meal may be the simplest imaginable and need not involve even buying a fire.

Cold meat, sandwiches, perhaps fresh fruit and cup cakes, and hot coffee carried in the thermos bottle are ample for the meal. A typical menu is:

Cold Fried Chicken Potato Chips Sardine Sandwiches Sweet Fruit Sandwiches Fresh Fruit Chocolate Cup Cakes Hot Coffee

To make an unusual sardine sandwich, bone and mash a can of sardines. Mix with one tablespoon chopped ripe olives, one tablespoon lemon juice, two tablespoons chopped, pickled beets and three tablespoons mayonnaise. Spread between thinly sliced white bread.

Sweet Sandwiches For the sweet sandwich, mash two cream cheeses, add one-fourth cup of well-drained crushed pineapple and one-fourth cup of strawberry preserves and cream well. Use between thin slices of buttered whole wheat bread.

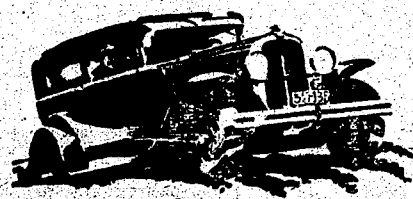

Another excellent picnic sandwich consists of three-fourths cup cold beef beans, one-fourth cup chopped celery, one-fourth cup chili sauce mixed together and spread between buttered slices of canned Boston brown bread.

VETERANS SHOW UP YOUNGER MARINES IN ENDURANCE HIKING TEST

In a test of endurance, conducted by the U. S. Marines, in Haiti, to determine the staying powers of the men, one hundred and eighteen men, ranging in age from 19 to 52 and carrying regulation field equipment, were given the test of ascending a steep mountain path, approximately eight miles, with a two hour limit.

Eighty-four men accomplished the feat in the prescribed time, and of those 20% were veterans of 44 years or over. The average age of those who succeeded was 29 years, while the percentage of tenderfoot recruits among the losers reduced their average to 24 years.

This experiment strengthened the theory of many that trained middle-age Marines rivals unseasoned youth.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, June 6, 1907

The lawn mowers are busy and the lawns are fine.

Shade trees are fast putting on their full livery of green, beautifying our village.

Postmaster Bates' usual smile is expanded by the fact of a $100 raise in his salary. Prosperity did it.

Nels P. Olson helped swell the crowd at the meeting of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M. at Bay City last week.

Mrs. Holger Schmidt and Mrs. R. Lamont spent Thursday and Friday last week at Lovells, enjoying the fishing.

Adelbert Taylor attended the session of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M. at Bay City last week as delegate from the local lodge and reports a large attendance and pleasant time.

Mrs. Louis B. Niles closed a seven months school near Waters last week Wednesday.

N. Michelson was in Lansing last Friday and one of the few of the many thousands to meet the President.

Mrs. Charles Jerome was in Lansing last week to visit with George, but of course took time to see the big crowd, and listen to the speeches of President Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Keeler went to Marshall last Friday, to stay with her father over Sunday. He is quite feeble from the effects of a paralytic stroke.

John F. Hum with Mr. Haywood and a friend from the south measured the depth of the AuSable, Tuesday evening at Black Bend. They saved their rods and bait, and reached home near morning Wednesday. They all claim it was wet.

P. L. Brown of Grayling, who has the contract of laying the foundation under the residence of E. A. Gaffney, is doing a fine piece of work, which shows that he is a master mechanic. He is talking of placing a machine here for the manufacture of cement blocks and we hope he will, as it is a much needed industry.—Roscommon News.

Bradley & Sprague have moved their market to the old P. O. building and present an inviting appearance to their customers.

A new engineer appeared at the home of R. A. McPeak on the morning of Decoration Day and every body is happy. The congratulations of their friends continue to pour in.

The cold and backward spring has had a tendency to discourage business men and farmers. Spring crops are backward, many of the farmers not yet having planted corn or potatoes. The cattle have to be fed and sheltered about the same as in winter. Many farmers sold their surplus hay and are now short of feed with hay at $18 to $22 a ton at retail. The ground is cold and crops already are in danger of either rotting in the ground or freezing if the plants have shown their heads above the ground. Business men, particularly in some lines, are disposed to grumble because people are still wearing their winter clothes and the weather holds back trade. However, the weather prophet says that after June 1st we can all take the flannels off the garden, which is meant to create the inference that we shall have warm weather after that date. There is no cause for gloomy forebodings by reason of weather conditions. We are promised a springtime and harvest, and it will surely come.

Roosevelt Meets Capt. Hartwick

Capt. Hartwick was in the great crowd which surrounded the president's train at Lansing when he got aboard in the afternoon. The captain asked an attendant to take his card to Mr. Roosevelt.

"It will do no good. The president is very busy and he's going to talk five minutes from the platform so you can see him."

"But will you not just have the card handed to him?"

The attendant hesitated, not knowing just how to classify the captain. "Oh, well, I'll send it in, but he will not see you."

"Thank you," replied the captain. "Send for Capt. Hartwick," those near the car heard the president say when he got the card. The comrades of San Juan Hill had an earnest and most delightful reunion for five minutes. Mr. Roosevelt will never forget Capt. Hartwick.—Jackson Citizen Press.

Inside Information

Keep the refrigerator well filled with ice. When there is too small a piece the temperature of the entire box rises. This not only endangers the food kept in it but causes the next piece to melt more rapidly in chilling the box to a desirable degree.

By the "hot pack" in home canning is meant a method of filling the jars or cans, not a method of canning. If the food is put into the jars boiling hot it reaches the temperature for processing more quickly in the canner and heat penetrates better to the center of the jar. The hot pack insures a product of better texture and appearance and shortens the time of canning.

Oven-dried toast is a delicious accompaniment to soups and salads, and is an easy way of disposing of stale bread. Any sort of pieces may be oven dried and delicately browned in a medium oven, but for passing as a special kind of bread, it is more attractive to trim the crusts off a stale loaf so the slices will be square, cut them very thin, and heat them until they are biscuit colored and slightly curled. The trimmings need not be wasted; roll them out for dried crumbs.

Have meals out-of-doors as often as you can during the summer-time. Keep in the house the "makings" on a tempting day, to change the meal program at very short notice. Sandwich fillings, bottled fruit drinks, cheese, and salad dressings are all easily kept in reserve in the pantry or refrigerator. Then with butter, bread, fresh fruit and perhaps tomatoes and lettuce, and eggs or any cooked meat you have on hand, it is a matter of a few minutes only to pick up the family and the supper and drive to a shady spot where the outlook and surroundings are pleasant. A picnic kit containing paper and enamel cups and plates, knives, forks, spoons, paper napkins and waxed paper for wrapping sandwiches or foods will enable you to get ready for a meal out-of-doors in a very brief time. Instead of taking sandwiches you may like to take a steak or some bacon with you to be cooked over a wood fire.

TEA BREWING AN ART MASTERED BY MANY

Brewing a social cup of tea is an art unknown to many housewives. While the amount of tea to use will depend on the individual's taste, C. P. Hutchinson, tea examiner stationed at New York City for the Federal Food and Drug Administration, says that about a teaspoonful to the cup is a good average. Boiling water must be used for the leaves will not open fully and impart their full strength and flavor to the beverage. But tea should never be boiled nor should the leaves stand in the water longer than five or six minutes, in his opinion.

An earthenware pot should be used, and after the leaves have steeped five or six minutes the liquor should be poured into another container, or if a tea ball is used it can be removed.

Mr. Hutchinson puts the tea in an aluminum strainer, puts the strainer across the top of the teapot, and pours boiling water through the strainer until the pot is full, covering the body of the strainer. After it has drawn for three or four minutes he takes the strainer out and has a cup of tea that is just to his liking.

WITHOUT BALANCE

Old Party—Young man, you're without balance. Weigh well your conduct before it's too late.

Young Man—Yes, sir, but I'll have to get my balance before I can do that.

SOMETHING AWFUL

He—Yes, I always have a lady hand shave me.

She—Goodness! What if a mouse ran across the floor.

THAT'S WHERE SHE WAS

"Lissen Mabel, how come you fainted in the boss' arms yesterday?"

"Well, you see Gert, when I fainted yesterday that's the only place I could faint."

GETTING MEN'S WAGES

Wife—Girls are getting men's wages everywhere now.

Hubby—Yes; they only have to take positions as wives for that.

SHE'D BE MUMMY SURE

"Wonder what the ancient Egyptian child called his mother?"

"Who knows? But if he were alive today he'd call her mummy don't you think?"

NO MEN OR WOMEN BORN

Visitor—How many men and women were born here last year?

Native—None, but the number of babies was quite large.

IF IT WERE POSSIBLE TO MAGNIFY A PASTURE

If it were possible to magnify a pasture several hundred or thousand fold—and all the parasites in the same proportion—so that blades of grass would appear as tall bamboos and small forage plants as great jungle trees, it would be easier to convince livestock growers of the desirability of careful attention to sanitation and of the importance of the constant watchfulness in combating the ravages of parasites that live in the pasture and attack the various kinds of livestock.

Such a magnified pasture would stand revealed as a place of life—and of death. Many of the livestock parasites are tenacious of life and are able to withstand the most unfavorable conditions. Yet the great proportion of them die without ever having the opportunity to attack an animal. However, many of these parasites have powers of reproduction and multiplication that seem marvelous. Thousands of immature forms will come from a single adult parasite. Many live through complicated life cycles and many have one or more intermediate hosts on which they live between their attacks on horses, cattle, sheep, or swine.

Unlike the jungle hunters, many of the pests in this magnified pasture would seem sluggish and inert—barely alive, perhaps. The stomach worm, that infests the sheep, for example, emerges from the ground and finds a resting place in a tiny curl in a blade of grass. There it remains while the grass develops. If no sheep bites off the grass the stomach worm in time dies. If a sheep crops the grass, the stomach worm enters and becomes active within the sheep's stomach, joins with other stomach worms, and preys on the sheep, which is likely to become unthrifty and unprofitable.

Fortunately for the livestock growers, most of these parasites are able to live and reproduce only when they are able to attack domestic animals of the same or closely related species. The danger from parasite-infested pastures is by no means so great if it is possible to use this year's horse pasture for cattle or sheep next year and for hogs the third.

ANNEXATION CAUSES TROUBLE FOR MARINE OFFICER

The annexation by the United States of the Hawaiian Islands brought unexpected inconvenience to one Marine officer. A regulation of the Navy required an officer to secure the permission of the Secretary of the Navy if he desired to leave the United States for a foreign country. An officer of the U. S. Marines, secured such permission to visit the Hawaiian Islands while it was an independent sovereign state. After arrival at the Islands, the Stars and Stripes went up in 1898 and the Hawaiian Islands became territory of the United States. Annexation put the officer back in the United States without his moving an inch. The officer wanted to go on to China and Japan and he had to secure, for the second time, permission from the Secretary of the Navy to leave the United States.

PATIENCE IN UPBUILDING ONE OF NECESSARY ELEMENTS OF THRIFT

(By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.)

One of the lessons which we all must learn, if we are to make progress, is the great value of patience. It is one of the essentials of thrift. We must learn that we cannot always accomplish our purposes, no matter how laudable they may be, as quickly as we might desire. In the process of building up our personal resources we should never lose sight of the fact that safe investments and spectacular profits seldom if ever go hand in hand. Placing our funds where we know they are safe even though the return may be considered small is far better than risking their loss in order to gain exorbitant profits.

In all matters of personal advancement we will do better in the long run if we exercise patience. Many a promising career has been ruined because of efforts to rise too rapidly. It is the old story of the house built on sand.

This is an age when the constant trend is toward speed in everything. We all want to get to the top quickly; we all want to get rich overnight; we all want to compress a week's accomplishment into a day's time. This is the spirit of the age and is not to be condemned because it explains the tremendous strides now being made in every field of endeavor. However, it places the individual in a position of strong and constant temptation. It is increasingly difficult to be patient and pursue sound and cautious policies of personal administration when stories are being told all about us of the meteoric advancement in wealth, position, or influence of others. The point often lost sight of is that very much is made of spectacular success but we seldom hear of the failures.

Notwithstanding the spirit of the age, patience has a high place in the scheme of success and advancement. Sound policies will always accomplish more in the long run than spectacular ones. The man who arrives at his goal through patient effort can rest assured that his success is of the substantial type which will last.

Those who may feel that their progress is not as rapid as it should be may be assured that, while their upbuilding financially and otherwise may seem to be of slow growth, they will in the long run lose nothing by a continued exercise of patience.

SEVEN MILLIONTH CHEVROLET GOES ON ITS WAY

The seven millionth car built by the Chevrolet Motor Company is on its way to its owner somewhere in America. The epochal car, which happened to be a coach, rolled off the assembly line Wednesday morning, May 28, in the company's huge plant at Flint, Mich. The car was the 1,845,938 six-cylinder car produced by Chevrolet since this model was brought out in January 1929.

Chevrolet's newest record-maker arrived without benefit of ceremony except for the cheers of the workmen along the final assembly line who halted work long enough to give it welcome and watch it being driven to the loading docks for shipment. Then work was resumed and not many seconds later Car No. 7,000,001 went to join its historic companion.

Various dates in the life of the Chevrolet Motor Company on which the millionth car marks have been passed furnish a graphic picture of the rapid strides made by the company to its position of 6-cylinder leadership in the industry.

Nearly 12 years elapsed after the company's organization before the one millionth car was built, on Feb. 27, 1923, but the second millionth car rolled off the assembly line less than two years and five months later, on July 20, 1925. A year and six months later, on Jan. 13, 1927, the three millionth car was produced. Thereafter less than a year was required to reach each of the succeeding million marks. The four millionth was produced, on Jan. 11, 1928, in 363 days; the five millionth, on Sept. 8, 1928, in eight months, three days; the sixth millionth on June 25, 1929, in 9 months, 17 days. The seven millionth mark, just passed, was reached in 10 months, 25 days.

Commenting on the production of the seven millionth Chevrolet, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the company, declared that building a million 6-cylinder cars in less than a year is an outstanding indication of the enthusiasm with which the public has received a 6-cylinder car in the lowest priced field. This class, he explained, offers to buyers to a greater extent than ever before the quality and performance formerly available only in cars of higher price.

OAKLAND CLIMBS 150 MILES OF MOUNTAIN ROAD IN HIGH GEAR

Conquers Famed Johnson and Cushman Grades of California

Probably the steepest, 150-mile stretch of mountain road in the United States, the route between Los Angeles and Big Bear Lake which includes the famed Cushman and Johnson Grades, recently was conquered in high gear by an Oakland Eight Sedan in less than four hours. Zig-zag switchbacks and long heavy pulls reaching a maximum grade of 18 per cent offer a supreme test of high gear pulling power.

The most difficult part of the trip is from Victorville to Big Bear Lake, a distance of 47 miles. The difference in elevation is 4,150 feet. Twenty-nine miles out of Victorville is encountered the start of the Cushman Grade. Drainage ditches across the road prevented a speed of more than 18 miles per hour on the first three miles of the grade but the following mile and one-half of switchbacks was negotiated at an average speed of 33 miles per hour.

Next the Oakland mounted the Johnson grade at 25 miles per hour. The 10.5-mile distance between the bottom of the Cushman Grade and the summit of the Johnson Grade was covered in 20 minutes.

Observers who accompanied the Oakland asserted that few, if any, strictly stock cars ever had covered the route without changing gears.

WARNS CAMPERS ON DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE

A warning to summer campers concerning the state law relative to the pollution of lakes and streams was issued today by the Pollution Division of the Department of Conservation.

State law forbids the dumping of any garbage or refuse in any public waters; requires that it must be buried in the ground at least ten rods away from the water-line; and provides for a penalty for its violation.

With hundreds of thousands of campers through the state each summer, it is obviously impossible to inspect all camp sites; it was said, and much of the responsibility for keeping Michigan's lakes and streams clean must rest with the camper himself.

It is conservatively estimated that one pound of garbage and refuse is dumped per day per person. Last year 138,308 people camped at the state parks alone. Had these been permitted to dump garbage in rivers and streams it would have meant pollution at the rate of approximately 10 tons a day; it was said.

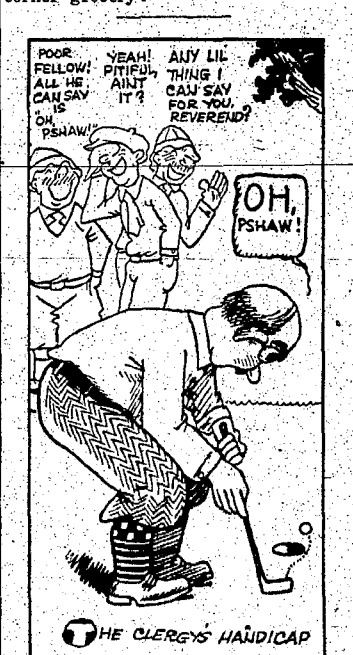

These camps represent but a small proportion of those who camp in Michigan.

While most of the attention of the Pollution Division, and the results obtained, have been with municipalities, institutions and industries, pollution by campers is not inconsiderable, and it generally occurs on lakes and streams where it is the only form of pollution.

"KONJOLA SAVED MY LIFE," SAYS DETROIT LADY

Nervousness And Constipation Of Years Standing Yield To New Medicine—Four Bottles Bring Health

MRS. MARGARET HAYNES

"Konjola saved my life," said Mrs. Margaret Haynes, 2724 Fourth street, Detroit. "I was a nervous wreck, so nervous that I could not bear to be in the company of my own family. I frequently left the table at meal-time in order to be away from everyone and everything. I was unable to eat and became terribly run down and was losing weight rapidly. No matter what I tried nothing relieved me until I took Konjola."

"Before I took this medicine I was terribly constipated. I was listless, sleepy and unable to do my work properly. This had been going on over a period of fifteen years. I have taken four bottles of Konjola and today my nerves are in much better shape. I have an excellent appetite and am free from the misery of constipation. I cannot say enough in praise of Konjola and I have all my friends taking it."

When given a real trial over a period of from six to eight weeks, Konjola has made a record that would often challenge belief were the actual fact not known and verified.

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mr. Hanson was for many years the manager of the Grayling Electric Co. system and when that Company sold out to the present owners, Mr. Hanson continued as manager. He is a capable electrician and an able manager and in all his career he proved himself most trustworthy. He is succeeded as manager by Don Reynolds who has been the bookkeeper and sales manager since the Service Co. has located in Grayling. By his faithfulness to business and his hustling spirit he has earned this promotion that has come to him. We wish him success in his new position.

Mr. Peterson wants me to mention the fact, too, that graduation diamonds are quite the thing. If you love diamonds, you should see the assortment they have here at the store.

52 More Planes for Navy
The Mothers Return
Mr. Ford's Recipe
5-Billion Dollar Infant

Navy contracts for 52 fighting planes, torpedo and bombing aircraft have been announced. They will cost, for the 52 ships, $3,000,177.

For the price of one modern battleship, with coalers and other equipment, the navy could buy 1,040 such fighting planes. Altogether they would require crews smaller than one battleship crew and would cost far less in upkeep than one battleship.

And one such bombing plane could sink any battleship or other ship afloat. This nation needs at the least an air fleet of 5,000 fighting planes, with an adequate fleet under water.

Peshawar is a long way from Buckingham palace, and once it would have been painful, slow work subduing natives in those far off valleys.

But now the dull thud of exploding Royal Air Force bombs is heard in the hiding places of Hajj and his Mohammedan tribesmen, rebelling against Britain. And Hajj's forces are melting away.

Allah and his prophet are great, but they offer no weapon to fight flying machines.

The first party of 127 Gold Star Mothers, having seen the graves of their dead sons, are on their way home.

They were too early for the poppies, about which pretty war poems were written, but they saw the white crosses, row on row, each marking the grave of a dead American soldier.

President Hoover and the Navy department are to be congratulated on the decision to allow our submarine O-12 to take part in Sir Robert Wilkins' work of exploration in the Arctic.

Eventually our fleet of submarines will be made useful in peace through exploration of the oceans, seas, lakes and land under them.

Engineers and surveyors will map out the mountains and valleys lying under the oceans.

And the future will see submarine prospectors, searching for mines and oil wells, below the water, competing with modern prospectors now searching for treasure and oil for nations by airplanes.

Henry Ford says people must keep up their spirits. American farmers must develop mass production as American factories do, wages must not be cut, and everybody must be cheerful.

Sound advice for everybody except the man out of a job, and the farmer, who doesn't know how to get mass production out of 50 acres.

Mr. Ford lets the workmen stand still while their work passes in front of them. The farmer can't stand still and make the rows of corn or cows pass in front of him.

But Henry Ford is a genius and may find a way.

Wall Street believes that J. P. Morgan, most powerful figure in American finance, is perfecting an enterprise that will make his late father's big steel company look like a modest investment.

The new enterprise, called in Wall street slang "United Corp.," plans a five-billion-dollar corporation to include practically everything in the way of public utilities in the North Atlantic region.

Steam power, water power, gas, and the great distributing agencies would all be under one hat.

Mr. Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railway, with his son and some first-class railroad engineers, has sailed for Europe, to be met by representatives of the Soviet commissar of railways at the Russian frontier.

Mr. Budd will devote a year to planning reorganization of Russian railways on American lines.

This shows that Russia knows something about business, whatever you may think of her politics and social theories.

Not including real estate, the late Rodman Wanamaker left $300,000,000, according to his executors. More interesting than the size of his fortune is the fact that he worked hard, almost to the day of his death, at his own business, and at promotion of aviation, in which he was a pioneer, and other work important to the public.

It is what a man does, not what he has, that counts.

Encouraging news from London says "business girls" are fighting long skirts. The short skirt represents common sense, comfort, health, and does not drag in germs.

Scientists of Lowell observatory are said to have selected the name "Pluto" for the new planet. They should make another selection.

An American, Professor Lowell, predicted the discovery of the planet; another American discovered it. It is, therefore, an American planet and should have been named for Newton, whose law made the discovery possible, or for Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Hoover or Theodore Roosevelt.

NEWS & COMMENTS FROM WASHINGTON

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

Dispelling the mystery which once shrouded the tomb in Arlington Cemetery of Mrs. Mary Randolph, the War Department has erected on the ivy-covered brick wall enclosing the tomb an informative bronze tablet, inscribed with a brief biography of this remarkable woman.

Data for the inscription was obtained as a result of an article in the Washington Star some months ago by Enoch A. Chase, calling attention to the uncertainty surrounding the history of Mary Randolph. The tablet points out that Mrs. Randolph, the first person to be buried at Arlington, was a direct descendant of Pocahontas, a cousin of Thomas Jefferson, of Fitzhugh Curtis and Robert E. Lee and a sister-in-law of Gov. Thomas Mann Randolph of Virginia.

The tablet also seeks to explain the quaint epitaph, long a subject of comment, which follows:

"Sacred to the memory of Mrs. Mary Randolph—Her intrinsic worth needs no eulogium. The deceased was born the 9th of August, 1762, at Amphill near Richmond, Virginia, and died the 23rd of January, 1828 in Washington City a victim of maternal love and duty. As a tribute of filial gratitude this monument is dedicated to her exalted virtues by her youngest son. Requiescat in pace!"

Automobiles of every Senator and Representative, all Government automobiles and trucks and thousands of other motor vehicles all over the country will carry this summer a large display announcement of the George Washington Bicentennial, according to plans just completed by Representative Sol Bloom of New York.

Mr. Bloom, with Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant, 3d, is associate-director of the series of bicentennial celebrations which are to center in Washington and to extend all over the land during 10 months in 1932, on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth.

Plans for a 100-ton, 100-mile-an-hour metal-clad airship to cost $4,500,000 have been laid before the House Military Affairs Committee by Carl B. Fritzsche, Vice President of the Detroit Aircraft Corporation.

Appearing in support of the Kahn Bill to authorize construction of such a ship for the Army transport purposes, he said engineers believe it would be practical. Such a craft, he added, would be able to carry a military load of 40,000 pounds from Washington to Panama in 40 hours without a stop. The proposed ship would be slightly larger than the Graf Zeppelin and 25 miles an hour faster, he stated. Fritzsche placed the cost of two such airships at $8,000,000 and said the first could be completed in 30 months and the second in 42 months.

Radio's "astounding" growth as a medium of public entertainment and enlightenment is reflected in an industrial survey just completed which shows that the listening audience alone approximates nearly one-half the population of the United States, and that 43 per cent of the families have radio receiving sets.

Radio Commissioner Harold A. LaRue declared orally May 24. Citing a revised survey of radio broadcast prepared by Dr. Daniel Starch of Cambridge, Mass., Mr. LaRue said it shows that radio, in the brief span of a decade "has vaulted into the forefront of America's everyday life."

It reflects also, he declared, the "ever-growing" task of the Federal Radio Commission in regulating radio to protect the public interest.

"Prevention of unemployment is a distinctly national obligation," said Senator Wagner (Dem) of New York, in a radio address May 24, in which he urged the passage by the House and enactment into law of three unemployment bills, introduced by him, that have been passed by the Senate.

"These bills can become law in time to prepare the country against next winter's hardships," he contended. "Should the House be denied the opportunity to act on this legislation at the present session, the country will know exactly where to place the responsibility for our lack of economic preparedness when next we undergo another severe attack of unemployment."

President Hoover this week signed a bill appropriating $750,000 for the establishment of a national health institute in Washington, under the supervision of the U. S. Public Health Service. Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, author of the bill, witnessed the signing and received the gold pen the President used.

The Senate on May 27 unanimously passed the House Bill H. R. 9004 amending the World War adjusted compensation act by extending the time in which applications may be filed. The bill was approved on the motion of Senator Smoot of Utah.

Finance Committee Chairman, at the same time the Senate unanimously passed a House Resolution authorizing the immediate appropriation of certain amounts for the settlement of war claims.

The following data regarding the recent examinations for entrance to the Naval Academy is forwarded by the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit. One hundred and forty-four men from enlisted ranks took the examination 91 or 63.20% passing. Civilian appointees who took the test totaled 684, and 152 or 22.22% passed. There were 48 appointees from the naval reserve, of whom 18 or 37.5% were found qualified. Forty-two young men who received appointments from President Hoover are included in the list of those who passed.

The Log Office Says

Interesting bits of news and comment about Northeastern Michigan gathered by The E. M. T. A.

If You're Across the Street Looking On—

Of course we know, since we're on the inside looking out, what loads of booklets, folders, and answers to questions are being sent out concerning East Michigan to the whole U. S. from the Log Office. But, John Duchaine is across the street from us. And he remarks, that if you want to know what the E. M. T. A. is doing, come and sit in his restaurant window for a day. "Any business man in this district ought to be proud to be a member of such an organization that's doing so much to advertise East Michigan," says Mr. Duchaine.

New York Schools Study E. M. T. A. Publications

This thing of supplying schools with E. M. T. A. publications for the study of Michigan is an increasing problem. Michigan teachers and principals write us complimenting our booklets. And now New York schools are asking us for maps and information about our Vacationland. It would be fine, constructive advertising, if we had adequate funds with which to publish enough to meet all such demands.

Tri-Country Meet To Be Annual Affair

The all-day outdoors meet of the Tri-Country Sportsmen's Club is to be an annual affair, according to H. N. Butler of East Tawas, who attended the recent committee meeting on final arrangements for the Mio shindig of June 13. From a mere evening dinner meeting of sportsmen on their way to the opening of the trout season, it has grown into a 24-hour holiday-in-the-open that interests all of East Michigan. June 13 in Mio promises to be a history-maker.

You Can't Beat the Irish!

Shades of Killarney, Dublin and the Blarney Stone! When the Irish put out tourist booklets they give you such detailed information that you can plan the expense of every day of your trip through the Emerald Isle. We have on our desk four new bits of tourist literature: "Killarney," "See Ireland First," "Dublin, Ireland's Capital," and "Hotels, Restaurants and Garages in the Irish Free State." And after you've looked through their charming pages you not only know where to go for angling, shooting, riding to hounds, and Irish scenery, but how much your garage, tea, dinner, lodging, breakfast and luncheon will cost you in every hotel on any route. You even know the difference in price of a hot lunch and a cold one. Wonder if we couldn't learn a bit from the Irish Tourist Association!

National Advertising Becomes International

Our national advertising brings them in from every state. But when it becomes international—that is a bit more than we expected. This week arrived an inquiry about Michigan travel from an Englishman whose country estate is in Middlesex, England. He is coming to America for the first time this summer. A request for information on Michigan resorts just came in from Discosannamartin, Romania. And Mr. W. Wong, of Singapore, added his name to the inquiry list a few days ago. That's just a glimpse of the possibilities of this thing—but we're not financially prepared to snatch up the opportunity as we should. (Here soft music should play the theme song: "Have You Paid Your Membership?")

Dear Folks at Home:

Guess I had better get busy and write a few lines. This is our last day at sea, we will pull in harbor at Leningrad at 8 a. m. tomorrow. We left London Saturday afternoon. Had a good trip across the North Sea, got to the mouth of the Kiel canal at 1 a. m. Monday. This is a canal that Germany cut thru about 50 miles from the North Sea to the Baltic Sea, about like the Panama canal, it has two locks like those at the Soo.

We stopped at the mouth of the canal in Germany and took on beer, whiskey, cigarettes and cigars. We bought Camel cigarettes at $1.25 a carton, as cheap as in the States and the same kind of cigars, seventy-five cents for a box of 25; old Scotch whiskey at $1.25 a quart, beer 17c a quart bottle and wine at 68c a quart.

Germany is sure a pretty place, nice buildings and nice farms and everything is kept up in good shape. We came out of the canal at 10 o'clock that morning and headed into the Baltic Sea. The first day was pretty calm but the following day it was rough and all the women and half the men were seasick. Yesterday we passed Sweden, was right close to some of the islands and now we are about six or eight miles from the shore of Finland. Will see Russia sometime this afternoon. Will be glad when we get to Leningrad, I'm getting tired of the water. Three or four days on the train, then its over unless we stop in Leningrad and Moscow.

Hope we can go right through and get to work for I am tired of loafing. I sleep six or eight hours at night, get up for breakfast, rest an hour or two, sleep till noon, rest another hour or two and sleep until supper time. It has been awful cold, just like October. Have had to wear an overcoat most of the time since we left Southampton and have only seen the sun for a couple of hours until yesterday afternoon. Today is nice and clear but our overcoat feels good when out on deck. I was up in the Captain's cabin for a couple of hours yesterday. Everything is controlled by electricity even to steering. I think when I come back I'll travel by train to London because there won't be any kick now to go by boat and I want to see more of the country. I'm getting so darr that I can hardly get my clothes on they are so heavy and I do like to eat. I will have to quit now and write the boys. Love to all.

Your son,
Claude Barber.
